RIDGES AND HOLLERS

The Rev. D. Cal Brand,
Regional Director

We are in the last stages of packing and taking off for the International Congress on Pastoral Care and Counseling conference in western Poland. This is our first trip abroad and we are excited and nervous. We have received much good advice and encouragement from veteran travelers.

Summer units are winding down and some of you will have a short break before the fall programs get started. It tends to be a different kind of busy – finishing up paper work, catching up, and getting ready for the next group. It may also be the window for a short vacation or retreat. I hope you are able to take advantage of some down time for rest and refreshment.

Many of you will know by now that Rhonda Gilligan-Gillespie is on the move. She has accepted the invitation of St. Vincent Hospital in Indianapolis to join their supervisory staff. Moving is hard work – saying goodbyes, learning new people, sorting, packing, etc. I know Marla Coulter-McDonald can attest to that. I understand that Rhonda is giving herself a little time to take care of all that business and will not begin at St. Vincent till later this fall. I know she will be missed at her present center.

If you haven't already done so, its time to register for the Fall ECR meeting in Akron. Lin Barnett speaks in glowing terms of our location there and it looks like a good program that should be of interest to all our members.

Many of you heard about and expressed interest in the Summit on Supervisory CPE that was held in the North Central Region in May. If you want to know what happened there, let me refer you to the North Central Region web page www.ncracpe.org where you will find the complete proceedings.

I am happy to report encouraging news from Susan Kyser. She wrote that her numbers look good, not a total remission yet, but that seems appropriate to hope for.

During my absence (08/01/07-08/21/07) our regional chairperson, Elizabeth Price, has agreed to take calls and emails regarding regional activities normally directed to me as regional director. Here is her contact information: The Rev. Elizabeth H. Price, Manager, Chaplaincy Services, Clarian North Medical Center, 11700 North Meridian Street, Carmel, IN 46032. Phone and pager numbers: Phone: 317.688.2653. Pager: 17.312.9181 or Email: eprice1@clarian.org.

PASTORAL CONCERNS & CELEBRATIONS

Powell Royster, died on July 29, 2007. Powell was a former ACPE Supervisor in our region and in the Louisville Cluster. A memorial service is planned for him 8/8/07, 10AM at the Versailles United Methodist Church in Versailles, KY. His son, Mark Powell wrote: "While the family feels the vacancy we are grateful for a very full 96 years. At his birthday lunch on July 4th he told some wonderful stories and gave his testimony to a table full of guests, including some Chinese international students who had become very close to him. We have many good memories."

While bike riding on July 27, Mike Stine, ACPE Supervisor, Mid-Atlantic region, was killed by a hit and run driver. A memorial service was held on August 2 in Barto, PA. Contact information for his family: Ms. Natalie Greenleaf (Stine); 129 Hallowell Rd., Gilbertsville, PA 19525.

CONNECTION THROUGH THE ART OF DIVERSITY
THE REV. YOKE LYE LIM, CHAIR
DIVERSITY TASK FORCE

If you have a piece of craft, collection, garment...etc. from another culture (i.e., other than your own primary culture) that you appreciate, please bring it to our Fall meeting and share it with our community. You may want to write a very brief "story" about this item on an index card and place it next to the item (so it can be read and cherished by others). A display table will be provided.

REVISED
PEER REVIEW GUIDELINES AND REPORT FORM

Karl VanHam, Chairperson of the Standards Committee, made the changes to regional Peer Review guidelines and report form as approved at the March 2, 2007 General Business meeting. [See Pages 4-6] You are encouraged to read the Guidelines, as there were several changes. Of special note, supervisors initiating peer review must present written material to the review team and the frequency of review was changed from 3 years to 5 years. Please discard any file copies you may have and replace them with the new Guidelines and report form. If you have any questions about the attachment, contact Karl: <karl-vanham@ridgewood-crc.org>

SUMMER CPE DAY, JULY 18, 2007 EARLHAM, RICHMOND, IN.

Program Co-Chairs, Yoke Lye-Lim and Stan Mullin reported that approximately 60 people participated in the summer CPE Day in Richmond, IN. A summary of the program evaluation is included in this newsletter. [See Page 7]

Connie and Sergei encourage you to reserve your room and register for the conference right away. Rooms not booked by August 26, 2007 will be released to the public.

The program information including registration information was E-mailed in July and is also included in this newsletter. Dennis Kenny, ACPE Supervisor, at the Cleveland Clinic, will be speaking on the "Promise of the Soul: Identifying and Healing Your Spiritual Agreements". John (Jack) Gleason will be presenting a workshop, "Verbatim: A Best Practices Protocol for CPE Students," and Bob Kloos, of Beacon Street Performing Arts in Ministry will be providing entertainment after the banquet on Friday evening.

JOB/EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

- We have an immediate opening for a full time staff chaplain at UK Health Care – Lexington, KY (due to the sudden and unexpected death of our staff chaplain, Rev. David Gichuru). Requirements include, but are not limited to: At least 4 units of certified ACPE training, endorsement by a recognized denominational structure, ordination, licensed, or able to perform appropriate religious rites, certified or eligible for certification in APC, NACC, or NAJC. Experience post-training preferred but not required. This position has varied hours however, our late chaplain worked mostly days with some occasional evenings, nights and weekend hours. In addition to fulfilling the necessary tasks and requests, there is every effort made to draw on the strengths and interests of the person in the position. You must apply for the position on-line at: www.uky.edu/

However, please feel free to call for questions or concerns. Salary, based on experience and within UK Guidelines, has been higher than what is reported on the latest APC survey as a national average. The position is open immediately. Rev. Dr. Donna B. Farrar, Director, Pastoral Care and Education, UK Health Care, 800 Rose Street, H-118, Lexington, Kentucky 40536-0293. Phone: 859-323-5301; Fax: 859-323-1743. E-Mail: dbfarr3@email.uky.edu

PROCEDURES FOR PEER REVIEW EAST CENTRAL REGION, ACPE

Peer Review assumes that the supervisor is engaging in peer relationships that offer feedback for reflection, learning and growth in the art of pastoral supervision. Peer Review occurs best in an environment of collegiality and support.

1. Peer Review Definition: Peer review is a process through which ACPE Supervisors initiate reflection and consultation with colleagues regarding personal issues, professional practice, and the impact these have on their ongoing growth and development as ACPE Supervisors.
2. Peer Review Purpose: The purpose of peer review is to maintain and develop our competence as ACPE Supervisors by fostering collegiality, encouraging openness to consultation, and providing care and support for each other. Peer review is for maintaining competence, not for uncovering incompetence.
3. Peer Review Committee: At least three persons, in addition to the presenter, meet together for peer review. At least two of the participant reviewers must be ACPE supervisors, while others could be from other disciplines. It is advisable that persons who are in administrative or supervisory relationships with the presenter not be part of the peer review committee. Staff colleagues may be chosen by the presenter with discretion and good reason.
4. Peer Review Material: ACPE Supervisors initiating peer review must present written material to the review team in order to bring focus, structure and intention to the peer review process.
5. Content of the Review: An ACPE Supervisor may present oneself as a person, pastor, supervisor, peer, and learner. It is important to include a discussion of one's self-care and experience of collegiality. Concerning supervisory practice, the following themes or materials may be helpful:
 - a. Strengths and weaknesses of the supervisor as she/he understands them.
 - b. Excerpts from student evaluations written by the supervisor or students.
 - c. Reflections on an individual student's process in CPE.
 - d. Review of one's learning theory and how it impacts current supervision.
 - e. Awareness and observance of new Standards, especially 309-319 Objectives and Outcomes of ACPE Accredited Programs.
 - f. Administrative issues, including larger center issues, their impact on the CPE program and supervisor, and how the supervisor envisions responding to these issues.
 - g. Pastoral practice, including one's own religious affiliation and how one practices ministry in one's setting.
 - h. ACPE peer and organizational connections.
6. Time Frame: This may vary from person to person. A minimum of 45 minutes is needed to adequately listen and respond to a person presenting for peer review. One option is to allow 1½ hours in order to have some preliminary, but very important, collegial sharing at the beginning of the meeting. Persons on the review team may want to "catch up" with one another as to significant events and changes in their lives. The bulk of the review time must be used to focus on the person requesting peer review.
7. Supervisors Involved with Supervisory CPE Students: As part of their ongoing Supervisory CPE programs, ACPE Supervisors in fairly close proximity are encouraged to gather once a quarter for formal Peer Review. Presentation of supervisory training experiences and students' processes are appropriate material for such meetings, as well as any of the above-mentioned suggestions.
8. Persons Engaged in Supervisory CPE: Built into the students' Supervisory CPE curriculum are contexts for ongoing peer review. These students are encouraged to participate in any additional review processes that may be helpful in building professional competency and collegiality.
9. Frequency of Review Every Five Years: Peer Review could be done more frequently; however, ACPE Standards requires that Peer Review occur every five years in order to maintain one's credentials as an ACPE Supervisor (Standard 411.6). Peer Review will be included in the schedule of Regional Conferences every three years, in order to help supervisors meet this standard.
10. Reporting the Peer Review Meeting: Using the regional report form, the presenter asks members of the Peer Review team to sign the form stating Peer Review had taken place. Under "Comments" the presenter writes a summary of the review. The presenter keeps the original form and mails a copy to the Regional Business office within 30 days of the meeting.

11. Peer Review Accountability: If peer review has not occurred according to ACPE standard 411.6, the Regional Director will contact the ACPE Supervisor and inquire about plans for scheduling a peer review. If the agreed upon plan for a scheduled peer review does not occur, the Regional Director will refer the ACPE Supervisor to the Regional Certification Committee.

Comments:

- Do not eat meat-it was great variety
- I liked the health sandwich options, specifically the low-fat tortillas.
- The discussion about laughter was wonderful!
- Drumming was exceptional.
- Keep the Psalms workshop-drop dreams-bring back religious symbols-keep the bottled water!
- Next time I teach chi-gong.
- Great-really needed-Belly dance-more workshop time-Movement activity great!-Need larger space for movement.
- More veggie trays for sandwiches.
- The clowning workshop was great.
- Cool the main area of meeting about time.
- Great facilities-Variety in workshops, presenters were great.
- Instead of hour-long workshops, offer 30 minuet intervals and can fit more in.
- This was better than last year-better workshops and better food and hors d'oeuvres. Including coffee!
- Psalms was fantastic /relevant.
- While I liked having two options, I wanted to learn more about dreams. Worship-more ecumenical.
- Exceptional=Karen Ivy, Stan Jones, Drumming by Karen Ivy. Good=Dreams by Rev. Dr. Lorraine Coufal.
- Yoga was great
- What a fun day. Thank you. I-as a resident-would have liked a mid-winter one too.
- Would like to have had this experience toward beginning of residency. Some aspect of spirituality in workshop-Dreams addressed spirituality and it was excellent-however I would have liked a second workshop offered that was meditative for my second hour choice. Humor workshops were good-just felt overloaded a bit.
- Very appropriate and the variety was good.
- Cultural diversity, language barriers.

ECR Fall Regional Conference-September 28 & 29, 2007, Sheraton Suites Akron/Cuyahoga Falls

Even though summer is just underway, fall will roll around before we know it. Enclosed is the program and registration information for our fall meeting. We began planning the September conference program even while the February conference was ongoing and have been busy ever since. We appreciate the cooperation of everyone that we contacted regarding this conference. We hope that you will find the program of interest and invite you to make your reservations today to attend the conference.

Our keynote speaker this fall is a member of our region. The Rev. Dennis E. Kenny, D. Min., is the Director of Pastoral Care & Education at the Cleveland Clinic. He is an ACPE supervisor and served as Regional Director for several years before he and his wife, Ruth, moved to California where he worked for approximately 20 years as Director of the Center's Spiritual Care Department. While there he became the founding Director of the Institute for Health and Healing of the California Pacific Medical Center. The basis of his presentation will be his book, "Promise of the Soul: Identifying and Healing Your Spiritual Agreements." Dennis will invite the audience to identify and explore our "unconscious promises" made early in life and will help us abandon unhealthy covenants and recreate our deepest beliefs and draw closer to the spiritual truths that can heal. Dennis brings 25 years of experience and personal stories to not only entertain but also help us examine and heal our personal covenants in a non-threatening way. Parts I and II will be offered Friday; Part III will be offered as an optional workshop on Saturday.

In response to your comments after the Hueston Woods conference, the General Business meeting will take place Friday afternoon so as not to interfere with the general sessions.

Following the banquet and comments by our Regional Chairperson, Elizabeth Price, Bob Kloos, of the Beacon Street Performing Arts in Ministry of Cleveland Ohio, will entertain us. Lin Barnett recommended Bob after enjoying a performance at another pastoral care event. Bob is the artistic director and full time performer. He is married to Jean and together they have two children, David and Sarah. He is the cofounder and current performing artist for Beacon Street. Most of what Bob has learned about ministry and the arts he learned from the very people he set out to serve. Bob enjoyed post-graduate studies at St. Mary Seminary in Cleveland and 17 years of service in parish and campus ministry. The mission of Beacon Street is to "Proclaim the Gospel using the performing arts," and Bob uses a variety of media to invite interaction and participation of the audience.

Participants will have the opportunity to select one workshop from two that will be offered. One will be the third part of the "Promise of the Soul" and another workshop by The Rev. John (Jack) Gleason), D. Min., ACPE Supervisor Emeritus, BCC (retired). Jack recently returned to our region and you may recall was the keynote presenter for the February 2006 conference regarding Best Practices in Pastoral Care. He returns this year to lead a workshop entitled, "Verbatim²: A Best Practice Protocol for Students." During his workshop a protocol will be presented in which CPE students can experience a deeper level of learning through a second round of verbatim study while at the same time contributing to an ACPE Best Practices data bank.

Following the workshops Saturday, participants will reconvene to hear reports from all members of the region that serve on national ACPE commissions and/or groups. It is an opportunity for members of the region to hear about activities at the national level and to provide feedback to the reporters to take back to their perspective groups. Finally, we will hear reports from the visioning committee chairs and status of reaching the Strategic Planning goals set by the region at our September 2005 fall conference.

Lin Barnett secured the Sheraton Suites Akron/Cuyahoga Falls as the venue for the fall conference and it received endorsement from Kim Barnett! Lin worked with the hotel staff to negotiate a room rate that is half of its regular rate and is, therefore, more affordable to our region. We appreciate their efforts on behalf of the region. The Sheraton Suites/Akron Cuyahoga Falls has a riverfront restaurant, an indoor lap pool, sauna, whirlpool, fully equipped fitness center and adjoins the River Walk and River Square Park. For additional information, i.e., driving directions, you may visit the web site <www.sheratonakron.com>. In order to keep the costs of the conference manageable and to allow participants to take advantage of the River Walk and River Square Park, lunch buffets will not be provided. The registration fee will include breakfast Friday and Saturday and dinner (banquet) Friday evening.

We encourage you to note the conference on your calendar, make your room reservations with the Sheraton Suites Akron/Cuyahoga Falls, OH, send in your regional registration form and enjoy the rest of your summer!

Sincerely, Connie Bonner and Sergei Petrov, Program Co-Chair
